Here are some things Larry likes!

Larry loves his job and earning a paycheck.

When he's not working, he like to go to the library and check out videos to watch at home.

Larry used to have a pet dog, and he really wants to adopt a dog again someday.

Larry gets tired of eating the same boring thing every week. He wishes he could go out to dinner spur of the moment once in awhile.

- A) Fold it up and make paper airplanes to race with his friends.
- B) Share it with his service coordinator and the rest of his IPP team.

C) Tell his IPP team this is what he wants when he moves to a new place.

D) Both B and C.

Photo: Larry with a bubble that says “What should I do with my Workbook?”

Slide 17

What if Larry’s IPP isn’t next week?

Larry’s IPP isn’t for another 6 months, but he wants to talk about moving now.

Poll question: What do you think Larry should do?

A) Ask for an IPP now in the next 30 days.

B) Wait for his IPP in 6 months.

Photo: Larry with a bubble that says “What if I didn’t have an IPP next week?”

Slide 18

Yes!

You can have an IPP meeting whenever you think you need one because you want to change your services and supports. The planning meeting must take place within 30 days of your request to review your IPP.

Welfare and Institution Code section 4646.5 subsection (b) is the law that says this.

Photo: Larry with a bubble that says “I can request an IPP any time?”
